FOUR STITCHES TAKEN IN HEART OF BOY

Four stitches were taken recently in the beating heart of a boy in Brooklyn, who had accidentally stabbed himself, and two hours later he asked the attendants at the hospital to permit him to sit up. The latest word from the hospital, where he is under closest observation, is that he will probably recover completely.

The stitches were taken only with the greatest difficulty, as the utmost care had to be exercised to take them only when the heart was contracted; that is, at the end of the beat which pumped the blood into the arteries. The operation required thirty-five minutes, though it was necessary to make an opening into the chest through two ribs and was completed within an hour after the accident. The boy, who stabbed himself and underwent the delicate operation, was Frank Farino, 16 years old. It was Farino's duty to open the large bundles of papers deposited at the dock, for this purpose he had a long, thin-bladed knife which he kept at razor sharpness.

The blade became rather dull and young Farino began to sharpen it. As he was sliding it back and forth on the stone, it slipped and the needle point of the knife penetrated his left breast. So thin was the blade that it struck through the wall of the chest and cut an inch incision in the boy's heart.

Instantly the wound began to bleed profusely, though more inwardly than outwardly. An ambulance was summoned and he was taken to the hospital.

Once the heart cavity was exposed by the removal of a section of two ribs and the organ brought into view, it was found that the cavity was suffused with blood and the heart pumping in more every instant. The organ was immediately raised and, timing the action of the heart beats, the four stitches were taken, the hemorrhages checked and the wound dressed.

AFTER ABERDEEN— ANGUS PREMIUMS

Grover Moritz, after his good showing made at the state fair at Sedalia last year will make entries of twelve head at the fair this year. Mr. Moritz is one of those progressive young breeders who has good stuff knows it, and now he is going to let everyone in on the secret that attends the fair.

There are many farmers in this section of the state and county who have stock good enough to bring home the ribbons and prizes, too, if they would take a little time off in fitting their stock for the show ring. There are many things which contribute to the winning of prizes besides blood lines. If cattle are wild and nervous they must become accustomed to being handled and be made to feel at ease with people around. The general appearance of cattle, also has a great deal to do with the securing of prizes.

It is said that Mr. Moritz has taken care in conditioning his exhibits. Last year Mr. Moritz made but one entry and won the grand championship at the fair.

This year more than $11,000 will be awarded owners of winning beef cattle. In addition to the regular state fair ribbons, beautiful Centennial ribbons, distinct features of the Centennial will be awarded. Winners of the Centennial ribbons will treasure them highly inasmuch as they are issued only once in a hundred years.

THE SURPRISE PARTY

"OLD Singlefoot is going to celebrate his golden wedding tomorrow," said the assessor; "we are planning to give him a surprise party, and would like you to go along."

"You couldn't drag me there with a team of government mules," replied the village patriarch. "About the meanest trick you can play a man is to spring a surprise party on him. Of course the majority of surprise parties are fakes. The victim has been informed in advance that he is going to be ambushed upon a certain date, and he makes his preparations accordingly. Then when the visitors arrive at his abode he pretends to be immensely astonished, and says he never dreamed of such a visitation; but the fact that he is wearing his Sunday shirt, and has his hair parted in the middle, gives the lie to all his protestations. There is no serious objection to a surprise party when the victim is warned in advance, although, as I have shown, it encourages skulduggery and hypocrisy, for no man can be thoroughly honest who pretends amazement over a visit he has been planning for."

"But the genuine surprise party is an outrage, and people who resort to it should be severely punished. There's nothing more humiliating to a self-respecting man than to have a whole neighborhood blow into his dwelling when he isn't looking for it. "When I am at home I sacrifice everything to personal comfort. I take off my shoes and collar and necktie, and roll up my shirt sleeves and slip my suspenders down over my arms. I don't care how I look if I am feeling at ease. If I am expecting visitors, I go to my boudoir and fix myself up so I look like a bridegroom. My wife has theories, similar to mine, and doesn't believe in being arrayed in purple and fine linen all the time. But she wouldn't be seen looking slouchy for anything. "Some months ago my wife casually remarked to a neighbor that my birthday would occur on the following Wednesday, and that neighbor, being a confirmed busybody, got busy and organized a surprise party. I never received the faintest hint of the scheduled catastrophe, and on the evening of my birthday I was lying on the floor of the sitting room, with about a hundred newspapers around me. My wife was wearing an old wrapper, and was popping corn on the kitchen stove. There was nobody else in the house, and we had no idea visitors would come, for it was a bad night. "About eight o'clock, just when I was thinking of going to bed, there was a knock at the front door. My wife thought it was some boy on an errand so she went to the door with a stovehook in one hand, and the corn popper in the other, and she gave a shriek of anguish when she saw the mass meeting on the front porch. The minute the door was open all those delegates pushed themselves in, smiling and giggling as though they were doing something mighty funny. "Our house hadn't been in such disorder in twenty years. It looked as though a couple of amateur teams had been playing basketball in it. My wife and I began apologizing and explaining, as people will do under such conditions, although they know that nobody will believe what they say; the guests assured us that it was all right, but I could see them squinting around and making mental notes for future reference, and inside of a week the story was all over town that our house was a fright, and no respectable couple could live in it. "That was the most miserable evening I ever spent, my friends, and I have never forgiven the people who took part in that uprising. And you may be sure I'll never treat another man as I was treated."

Lost Note Redeemed.
A soldier presented himself at the commonwealth treasury in Melbourne, Australia, and said, "I am a 20-pound note and want to be cashed." He stated that he had swallowed the note at Fleurbaix when he expected to be captured. He remembered the number, and the note in question turned out to be the only one missing from a particular issue which had been recalled.

AN ELOQUENT JAPANESE.

Yutaki Minakuchi has been on the Chautauqua platform since 1915. He lectures on "The Border Land." Japan is of more interest to America than probably any other country. Are we to be friends or jealous foes? Mr. Minakuchi's lecture will be unusually interesting.

Mr. Minakuchi was educated in the universities of Kentucky, North Carolina and Virginia, and at Yale.

Marceline has bills out for a big Legion day celebration to be pulled off Tuesday, August 2. All sorts of things doing, auto given away, aeroplane flights, races and contests of all sorts and also four big boxing bouts will be presented for the benefit of the crowd that is expected to be present. A ball game is announced and a dance is also on the program. If there is anything else not mentioned usually pulled off in celebrations of this kind, they'll probably be presented. Don't forget the dates.

Fletcher Lyon, a barber of Novinger was arrested charged with the betrayal of Ellen Wise, 15 year old daughter of John Wise, of near LaPlatte. Lyons, realizing the predicament he was in, went to the father of the girl and expressed his willingness to marry the girl at once. The father accompanied the couple to Macon where Judge Williams performed the ceremony Tuesday night at 11:30 o'clock.—New Cambria Leader.

A St. Louis girl is going to marry a fellow with the impossible name of Don Carlo Zuccaro dei Pietraguliti. The marriage will happen this summer in Rome. But then, she is a former school teacher and it is to be expected she will learn in time how to say her new name. At present she and her mother are taking a vacation up in the wilds of Michigan—probably practicing a little Italian grammar.

Was Surprising."—Got Along
Fine, Became Normal and Healthy.

Springfield Mo.—"My back was so weak I could hardly stand up, and I would have bearing-down pains and was not well at any time," says Mrs. D. V. Williams, wife of a well-known farmer on Route 6, this place. "I kept getting headaches and having to go to bed," continues Mrs. Williams describing the troubles from which she obtained relief through the use of Cardui. "My husband, having heard of Cardui, proposed getting it for me. "I saw after taking some Cardui ... that I was improving. The result was surprising. I felt like a different person."

"Later I suffered from weakness and weak back, and felt all run-down. I did not rest well at night, I was so nervous and cross. My husband said he would get me some Cardui, which he did. It strengthened me ... My doctor said I got along fine. I was in good healthy condition. I cannot say too much for it."

Thousands of women have suffered as Mrs. Williams describes, until they found relief from the use of Cardui. Since it has helped so many, you should not hesitate to try Cardui if troubled with womanly ailments. For sale everywhere. E.33
